The Granada AT&T Ballpark Tour

Off to the ballgame again trod the Granada 25. Boarding our luxury coach parked outside the Granada's front door equipped also with plenty of bag lunches, beverages, peanuts, potato chips. We drove to the O'Doul Gate at AT&T ballpark, up the elevators to our box seats in plenty of time to get set Peter Hill, above, looks ready to enjoy a game. Bottom of the 3rd the giant screen reads: "THE GIANTS WELCOME, Granada Senior Residence" to make us feel right at home. In the view reserve section we had 5 seats for Jason, Michael, Calvin, John and Ken. Next baseball game tour August 25th when we play Cincinnati. Go Giants!

That's Dick's playball look.

Bay to Breakers

ING Bay to Breakers - was first run in 1912 as a precursor to the world-class athletic events planned for the 1915 Pan Pacific International Exposition. There were less than 200 participants in 1912, and Robert Jackson Vlugt, a St. Mary's college student, was the first runner to cross the finish line, with a time of 44:10.

As the race grew in size it even set a Guinness Book record, with 110,000 participants in 1986. The course is challenging and beautiful, and consistently attracts world class competitors. (The 2010 race was won by Kenyan Sammy Kitwara, time of 34:15) But it isn't just a race for the serious runner. In the true spirit of San Francisco the race is a celebration for everyone. Thousands of costumed participants join with families, and weekend runners and walkers.

Throughout its long history Bay to Breakers has been a showcase for the City's irrepressible color and its affection for eclectic traditions. Although runners come from across the country and around the globe, the race is still a quintessential San Francisco experience and a true reflection of life between the breakers and the Bay. This year April Davidauskis, Tony's senior daughter, and Marcos Feitosa, Tony's assistant manager, both ran, with some impressive figures.

4th of July Picnic in the Granada this year will include: ribs, potato salad, cold slaw and watermelon then we'll watch KRON-TV for the fireworks over the bay. The wide screen TV makes viewing the firework's celebration very real. On the second thursday of every month, we have the San Francisco Public Library on Wheels parked outside the Granada's front door for one hour at 10:00 am. Get a library card, select from a great numbers of books, special order almost anything that will be delivered to your door the next visit; I use it every month, the people are very helpful so pay them a visit. In the diningroom there is "open" seating, that means no reserved seating real or imaginary. How about the new diningroom chairs, like them? If you would like an old one for your room let me know. Just came back from southern California where I move my daughter into a new comfortable house as she continues her PhD studies at USC. She joined 24,00 San Franciscans running the Bay to Breakers just like Dad did back when. The Giants are really doing it this year, so are we, Wednesday August 25th, when we play the Cincinnati Reds and everyone has a box seat! The fog is back with all its mysteries, enjoy. Thanks

Tony Davidauskis, manager
