Granada Casino Royale

"Deal me in," said 35 Granada residents at the first ever Granada Casino Royale Night. Texas Hold'em and 21 Black Jack were the games, two tables of each, all in all, 32 seated players. Champagne was the other entertainment, "so let the good times roll." There were five "you got the most chips, you got a prize" winners of gift certificates redeemable at Sutter Market, across Hyde street. So I think everyone is "all in" for the next session.

Raphael knows how to pass those cards around.

Michael Collins, the dealer, flipping cards to Earnest Collins, the second place grand winner.

Clinton is no stranger to cards and everyone towed the line.

Two Royale waitresses serving a case of Champagne and some Ginger Ale.

Larry Richards, the Texas hold'em dealer presents Charlotte Manley with the Grand Prize Gift Certificate. No, she never played before.

TEXAS HOLD'EM

The most difficult part of this game to master is:

Before cards are dealt, two forced bets must be paid, they are called the big blind and the little blind. A bet is when chips are put into the pot for the first time in a hand. The amounts of the bets and blinds are predetermined, and the little blind is always half the big blind. The little blind position is always the seat to the left of the dealer, and the big blind is the seat to the left of the little blind. If you know seven card stud poker, it's about the same, after the blinds. The dealer deals two cards, face down to each player, they must then decide and place their bets

Noontime Concerts comes to the Granada

12:30 pm every Tuesday at Old Saint Mary's Cathedral located on California and Grant Avenue, Noontime Concerts presents a 40 minute classical music concert from a great selection of bay area/world artists. Several Granada residents frequent many concerts over the last 9 years but my great wish was to have more Granada seniors hear this wonderful array of classical musicians. Now due to the advent of high definition/hard drive digital camcorders with stereo microphones, I am now able to record each concert and present it to the Granada public to enjoy. The first such video concert shown on the Granada's Wide Screen TV featured

The Russian Chamber Orchestra offering works of: Handel, Schubert and Tchaikowsky.

Next, Iris Stone, violin - Mark Salman, piano presented Beethoven's Sonata No. 8 and Prokofiev's Sonata No. 8. Everyone who came said they will come again and few ardent fans suggested a discussion group after the concert. Sharing music together is true, wordless fellowship and it takes place every Wednesday in the Granada TV room about 1:30 pm., compliments of Noontime Concerts, a non profit organization. Come listen. Ed.

Passover at the Granada

The Jewish community in the Granada celebrated their Passover, soeveryone shared a traditional Jewish seder meal of matzoball soup, brisket of beef with roasted carrots and potatoes served with matzo and a desert of macaroons and pudding, don't forget the Manischewitz wine. Stassia Feldman's son, George, gave a blessing and cantored a few traditional songs, Matzo is a cracker like flatbread made of plain flour and water that is not allowed to rise. Eating matzo in place of bread on Passover is considered a positive mitzyah i.e. a commandment. Manischewitz is a sweet Concord grape wine bottled with rabbinical supervision.

I can see how popular casino card playing is from our first "Granada Casino Royale," everyone was busy with the red, white and blue chips and four full tables of eager card players; yes we will have many "Royale" moments. June 15th is Father's Day. Did you know the day also commemorates Ben Franklin's kite experiments in 1752? Yes, "Fly a Kite Day," dad. June 21st also begins our summer, get ready for the fog. Everyone had fun at our Memorial Day Picnic with the ribs / burgers / corn / beans / potato salad and we'll have another picnic on July 4th; summer fun. I recently visited my in-laws in southern California and took a few days to see my daughter, April, and look around USC,her university. My Mom is stable and happy at Central Gardens where they just had a 3 bridge tour just like ours, thank you for all your good wishes. If anyone needs any work done in your unit, please let me know. California is experiencing a drought, i.e. mandatory cut backs of 19% are going on in the east bay. Water conservation is appreciated, so think water and save when you can.

Thanks

Little Brothers "Friends of the Elderly" San Francisco Chapter visit here several times a year but this is the first time we noticed this typo of our address. It's not Tony, The Grandpa, we all know that from his March column. Guess it's a new name for The Granada, The Grandpa. Father's Day is coming, so's an address change, wouldn't want anyone to get the wrong idea; Grandma lives here too.
